Siding and/or roof restoration— protection you can see

Let's face it—your home's exterior is the last defense to weather and the first thing people see. Did you know that siding and roof manufacturers usually update their products every eight to ten years which may make it hard to find a matching color to your existing home? When part of your home's siding or roof are damaged, our siding and/or roof restoration protection provides coverage for the cost of replacing materials that aren't damaged when similar materials used for replacement are no longer available. That way, your home's roof or siding will match—and you'll feel proud of the way it looks.

Roofing

Asphalt shingles that aren't damaged will be replaced on a home when the same kind or quality aren't available to repair the damaged portion.

Siding

Coverage for replacement of vinyl siding will be replaced for a section that isn't damaged as part of a claim loss. Siding includes soffit and fascia.
